Mayan Cooking Class
In this class, you’ll create classic dishes like tamales, corn tortillas, and caldo using the fogon, an authentic Maya stove, in a remake of a traditional kitchen. Discuss techniques and flavor profiles of the Maya and then enjoy the fruits of your labor.
Xunantunich Mayan Ruins
Enjoy a private escorted tour of Xunantunich. Xunantunich is an ancient Mayan archaeological site in western Belize. Xunantunich is located atop a ridge above the Mopar River, well within sight of the Guatemala border. These ruins served as the Maya civic ceremonial centre to the Belize Valley region in the late and terminal classic periods.

Chocolate Making Experience
You’ve probably enjoyed tasty chocolate treats your whole life without ever knowing where it came from. This tour teaches the traditional Maya method of making chocolate, starting with the cocoa bean and continuing all the way to the finished chocolate bar and the importance of this delicacy to the region.

From sparkling pools and a pampering spa to an organic garden and inspiring adventures, Itz’ana invites you to relax, explore, and repeat.
Bocawina National Park
There's no shortage of adventure in Belize, but the truly intrepid will find themselves drawn to Bocawina National Park, where ziplining and waterfall rappelling are part of a typical day. The park offers 7,100 acres of lush jungle, a dizzying amount of wildlife, and ancient Maya sites. Your visit to the park, which will be customized to suit your adventure level, might include flying through the rainforest canopy on the country's longest zipline, tracking jaguar and puma on a night hike, or rappelling 250 feet down the face of a rushing waterfall—no big deal.
Silk Caye
Encounter sugar-white beaches, the occasional coconut palm and water lapping along the shoreline, beneath which, a lively community of aquatic life awaits wide-eyed visitors. Spot vividly-colored fish, benign sharks (yes, they do exist), eagle rays and stingrays from your perch on the beach where a picnic is the perfect accompaniment to a day-long adventure.
