The spectacle of the flooding of the delta begins in the highlands of Angola, where rains feed the Okavango River, flowing through Namibia's Caprivi Strip and into the harsh Kalahari Desert. Coinciding with the peak of Botswana's dry season, the floodings in the delta result in a migration of plains game from the drier hinterland. YOUR JOURNEY IN DETAIL

Day 14 - Saturday - 2nd July 2022

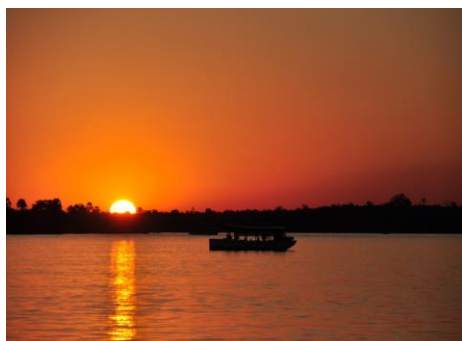

Victoria Falls Hotel

2 x Stables Signature Wing Room, Bed & Breakfast

Meet your guide for a two-hour walking tour around one of Africa's most iconic sites and one of the Seven Natural Wonders of the World. In 1855, Scottish explorer David Livingstone was the first European to discover Victoria Falls - which he named after the monarch at the time, Queen Victoria. Known by locals as 'Mosi-oa-Tunya', or 'the smoke that thunders', the spray from these majestic falls can be seen from over 20km away, while there are 16 different vantage points from which visitors can take in their size, power and splendour. Waterproof ponchos can be hired near to the entrance to the falls, and sensible, water-resistant footwear is recommended. Depending on your helicopter flight time, you will either be taken straight to the helipad or return to your hotel after your tour.

At the helipad, you will receive a full safety briefing. From here, you will board a helicopter and be whisked away on a memorable 12-minute flight over the majestic Victoria Falls, where you will enjoy spectacular aerial views of one of the world's most iconic natural wonders. These trips offer thrilling photographic opportunities and depart regularly throughout the day. Return to the hotel for lunch and early afternoon at leisure.

Meet your driver around 3.30pm and transfer to the dock for a 2-hour sunset cruise aboard the small and exclusive Rakane. Named after the guide who accompanied David Livingstone when he discovered Victoria Falls in 1855, the charming teak boat has space for just 16 guests and feels much more intimate than some of the larger cruise vessels on the river. The boat's shallow hull allows it to get closer to the Falls, as it takes a circular route around the Zambezi River and its islands. Drinks and canapés are served during the trip, and this is an opportune time to catch sight of hippos, alligators and elephants as they head down to the water for an evening drink.

YOUR ACCOMMODATION

The Westcliff, Johannesburg

5 star

Originally built as a residential estate, The Westcliff perches on top of an eight-acre forested ridge, known as 'the Rand,' with panoramic views over Johannesburg's grand, historic mansions and oldest residential suburbs. Now managed by Four Seasons, this sprawling hotel, linked by golf carts and cobbled streets, feels more like a resort than a city hotel. Rooms and suites spread through nine hillside villas, interwoven with courtyards, gardens and fountains. Each different category has its own interior palette, but all incorporate a balcony or terrace, vibrant splashes of colour and African-inspired touches, as well as the renowned Four Seasons beds flown over from Canada. After a day of exploring, dive into one of the two beautiful swimming pools or retreat to the spa. Nine treatment rooms offer an array of treatments inspired by ancient traditions, such as the Red Nomads Experience revitalizing mask containing local rooibos, baobab and Kalahari melon. Relax afterwards in Apres-Spa, the city's only outdoor spa lounge, featuring a menu of light meals, salads and sandwiches. Pre View is a sociable bar for sharing small plates and handcrafted cocktails with hilltop views. View opens for breakfast and dinner, serving avant-garde cuisine with a fabulous panorama over the city. Flames is the perfect spot for cocktails on the terrace and home to the cherished tradition of a braai (barbeque), where one can expect perfectly cooked steaks and spice-rubbed grilled fish.

YOUR ACCOMMODATION

&Beyond Xaranna Okavango Delta Camp, Okavango Delta

5 star

Xaranna Okavango Delta Camp is situated in a 25 000 hectare private concession to the southeast of the Moremi Wildlife Reserve in the heart of the Okavango Delta in Botswana. This Camp is set in complete solitude on its own island, surrounded by permanent river channels which flow throughout the year, making it reachable only by boat. The lazy public areas offer a cushion clad lounge, a spacious games area and secluded reading spots, some of which are shaded benches made of old mokoros. Delicious meals are served in the open sided dining room or around a roaring camp fire in the open boma.

The nine airy tented suites are constructed of canvas atop bleached timber platforms. The low set four poster beds are draped with softly coloured mosquito netting and the en-suite bathrooms have deep bath tubs and outdoor showers. Each suite has a viewing deck with a shaded sala and a private pool, all overlooking the active water channels.

YOUR ACCOMMODATION

Selinda Camp, Linyanti Swamp

5 star

Selinda Camp rests on the banks of the Selinda Spillway, within the 130-000 hectare private Selinda Reserve. An authentic pioneering ambiance gives this intimate, explorer-style camp the air of a bygone era and the decor elements embrace an African version of Robinson Crusoe. A maximum of 6 guests are accommodated in 3 expansive tented villas, with their own unique design and colour palette. Each are covered under thatch and have spacious en-suite bathrooms, large verandahs and private swimming pools.

Game experiences at Selinda Main include open vehicle game drives, guided bush walks and boat-based activities. Selinda (linked to the Okavango Delta and the Linyanti, via the spillway) is a haven supporting elephant, buffalo, lion and wild dog, as well as sable and roan antelope, in addition to numerous other animal species and birds. In-room massage treatments are available.

YOUR ACCOMMODATION

Victoria Falls Hotel, Victoria Falls

5 star

An oasis of Edwardian-era charm just a stone's throw from the famous falls, Victoria Falls Hotel is one of the most stylish ways to experience this wonder of the natural world. Walk into the grand entrance hall, hung with paintings and photographs of notable politicians, historical figures and explorers and be transported back to the golden age of travel. In the hotel's public spaces are airy lounges cooled by ceiling fans and shady verandahs with soft chairs and loungers. Just a 10-minute walk from the falls, the hotel sits within acres of verdant gardens bathed in the mist of the cascading waters. The 161 stylish rooms and suites feature dark native hardwood, spacious bathrooms and air-conditioning to keep the heat of the jungle at bay. In the hotel's Stable Wing, there are four-poster beds, vintage Victorian bathtubs, and views over the gardens or courtyard. The opulent two-bedroom Presidential Suite comes with a private balcony overlooking the gardens and the services of a butler. There is an extensive range of adventures and activities around the falls, from helicopter rides and thrilling white-water rafting expeditions to high-speed ziplines over the rushing waters. After a busy day, relax and recharge in one of the hotel's restaurants and lively bars. Try the seven-course tasting menu at the Edwardian Livingstone Room, accompanied by vintages from the Diners Club Gold Award-winning wine list.

YOUR ACCOMMODATION

Four Points by Sheraton

4 star

A contemporary airport hotel, the 172 room Four Points by Sheraton offers all the modern amenities and comforts a traveller needs, from spacious rooms and signature Four Points beds, to rain showers and 42 LED TVs. A variety of dining options are on offer. Sample roasts and grills paired with the signature Best Brews craft beer at Tazama Rooftop Bar and Grill or dine at Marketplace the all day dining restaurant, serving wholesome and fresh international cuisine and a 24 hour menu for travellers catching flights in the early hours. And the Lobby Bar is ideal for when you need a quick pick me up or a pastry.

andBeyond Ngorongoro Crater Lodge, Ngorongoro Crater

3 star

There are few places more extraordinary than the colossal Ngorongoro Crater, the remains of an almost three million-year-old volcano. Bordering the Serengeti, the area around here is rich with volcanic soil, verdant forest and spring-fed lakes, allowing wildlife to thrive. Like a high eyrie peering over the prehistoric crater bowl, this charming and slightly overworldly lodge is set right on its rim, designed with the same eccentric flair as a European chateau. Each of the thirty stone-walled suites - spread across three satellite camps - come with private butlers to draw a bath or deliver an expertly-mixed martini, while communal spaces are filled with gleaming chandeliers, flickering fireplaces, Persian rugs and gilded mirrors. Game drives begin with descents through thick highland forest, skirting around the shallow Lake Magadi and the swampy Ngoitokitok Springs. This is one of the top places to tick off the Big Five - and one of the last remaining habitats of the gravely endangered black rhino.

YOUR ACCOMMODATION

andBeyond Klein's Camp

5 star

Enjoying an enviable position sandwiched between the Serengeti and Maasai Mara National Parks, game-viewing territory does not come more prime than this. Klein's camp is a dramatic perch built into the escarpment of the Kuka Hills with sweeping views over one of East Africa's principal migratory routes. Close to the border of Kenya in the north, this corridor of land links the two great parks and during the great migration becomes a seething torrent of creatures as more than a million zebra and wildebeest jostle for position. The best time to catch them moving south is between October and November. However, there is plenty of excitement at other times of the year too.

Set in a concession leased from Maasai landlords, the lodge is free from the usual park diktats - make the most of night game drives by heading off-road in pursuit of nocturnal bush wildlife and eye-opening walking safaris. Encounter herds of giraffe and elephant in the valleys and rolling hills as well as all the big cats, while waving grasslands hide a multitude of creatures from impala to dik-dik. Wandering through groves of acacia and desert date trees expect to find Grant's gazelle, olive baboon and bushbabies and a plethora of birdlife.

There are ten wonderfully comfortable private cottages with makuti thatched roofs, whitewashed walls, polished wooden floorboards, and terraces that offer front row seats for the striking lilac and mauve sunsets. You might catch a glimpse of the pair of black Verreaux's eagles who have made their eyrie close to camp, soaring high over the plains they fly at roughly the same elevation as the lodge. There is a central bar and separate dining room centred on an open fire pit. A shamba or African kitchen garden provides a plentiful supply of fresh vegetables served up with hearty fare. Further down the hillside is a freshwater swimming pool - spend an afternoon on a sun lounger sipping home-made lemonade and scoping out the elephants in the valley below.

YOUR ACCOMMODATION

The Aiyana, Pemba Island

5 star

The Aiyana sits on the northern tip of Pemba Island on a pristine beach and is reached by vehicle on a 1.5-hour drive from Chake Chake Airport, the last 25 minutes of which is down an unmade, sandy road. Guests will feel they have really found somewhere remote, pristine and very special indeed.

Pemba Island itself is the more rural of Zanzibar's two main islands and thus affords a view into the more traditional life of this exotic archipelago. The main industry here is still the clove crop with much of the landscape being given over to farming or simply virgin forest.

The Aiyana's 30 standalone villas are set apart from one another facing the beautiful beach and Indian Ocean. Some offer spacious indoor/outdoor bathrooms while others have plunge pools and additional living areas. The Royal Suite has a larger pool and its own bit of beach and even the lead-in Prestige Villas have a pretty and secluded little garden in which to relax and sunbathe in private.
