

PRINTABLE LABELS

Organization never looked so good.

Emily Lex's home office, above and right, includes a smart labeling system she created. Now you can get the look with her custom labels! For more of her great ideas, go to jonesdesigncompany.com.

To create a super cute labeling system like Emily's, print and cut (and customize if you choose) the free labels on the next two pages.

FOR ADHESIVE PAPER:

Print with paper positioned according to paper and printer directions. Note: You might need to adjust your ink settings. Cut the labels, peel off the backs, and apply the labels. If you use precut labels, these will fit Avery 5163.

FOR REGULAR PAPER:

Print, then fasten labels with decorative washi tape on the front or adhesive on the back. Or punch holes through the labels and tie them on with string.
